After rule 51F of the said Rules, the following rule shall be inserted, namely :—

51G. " Keeping of dangerous articles and substances—

(1) The Central Government or the Provincial Government may by order, in respect of any articles or substances from the explosive or inflammable nature of which special risks are in the opinion of that Government likely to arise in the event of hostile attack, issue directions :—

(a) prohibiting the keeping of such articles of substances in or on such premises as may be specified in the order ;

(b) prescribing the quantity of such articles or substances which may be kept in or on any premises ;

(c) requiring the owner or occupier of any premises in or on which such articles or substances are kept to take such measures as may be specified in the order for the protection of persons or property therein or thereon, or in the vicinity thereof ;

(d) for any incidental or supplementary matters for which that Government thinks it expedient for the purposes of the order to provide, including, in particular, the entering and inspection of premises to which the order relates with a view to securing compliance with the order.

2. If any person contravenes any order made in pursuance of this rule, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months, or with fine, or with both ".
